Triennial Meeting, Dublin. August 11th –19th 2007

A special commemorative mug is being made, by Nicholas Mosse, a well-known Irish Quaker Potter, for the participants at the Triennial next year. These mugs are a once-off production, with illustrations depicting “The two mules” story. They will be collector’s items and could be given to anyone as presents, (including heads of state!). How about them for tea and coffee after morning worship, on your mantelpiece for collecting pins, marbles and buttons or in your office for break time use?

The cost for each is €20 or £14

Postage & Packing will be an extra (per mug) ROI €5, UK £6 or EU €10
To reduce postage cost please try to organise a bulk order through your meeting or you can arrange collection from Ireland. Please contact Alan Pim for postage on bulk orders.
